

Privacy Policy

Your privacy is important to Development Appraisals Limited.

Development Appraisals Limited collects the minimum amount of information required for account creation and use of the app. No other device specific information i.e. location, is collected.

We may use your supplied email address to contact you. This will include marketing emails regarding new features in development and the launch of new versions. Your email will be the main point of contact for subscription renewal reminders.

Information you enter within the portfolio section of the app is used solely for the production of development appraisals and the associated reports.

Messages sent between users may be viewed by the project owner. Messages are designed to be auditable and may be used within reports by the project owner as an audit trail for specific appraisal based decisions.

None of your information is accessed by, or sold to, third parties.

From time to time we may make changes to this Privacy Policy. Users will be notified of such changes.

If you have any questions regarding this Privacy Policy, please email info@developmentappraisals.com
